Goddess Bedtime Stories from Athena's Home Novelties Review & Giveaway

ATHENA'S
HOME NOVELTIES

I haven't really gotten into erotica. I have read a few excerpts from books in various magazines. But I haven't purchased any books for myself. That all is about to change now that I know what happens after the magazine excerpt ends! I recently received a copy of Goddess Bedtime Stories: 21 Tales to Keep You Up All Night from Athena's

Home Novelties! This book has 21 stories sure to get you hot and heavy! The stories give you an up close and personal account of the writer's most passionate and erotic stories!

I thought I would see what this book was all about. The first story I read was written by Athena founder Jennifer Jolicoeur. She told a tantalizing tale about what happened when her beloved vibrator broke while staying in Orlando. I won't give away the details, but I will say that her lust for the real thing turned her solo night in, into an sexual adventure at the Dew Drop Inn. This story was a good read and I didn't want to put it down!

One thing I like about the various stories is that they aren't too long. It gives you enough to get you going and help you get where you are wanting to go! I also like how they divided up the stories into different chapters. This allows you to choose the stories that are best for you! This book is a great one for anyone, whether it is your first erotica book or you're a long time erotica reader! And it is exclusively from Athena's!

Athena's offers so much more than just erotica! This is a great place to shop online, and you can also join as a Goddess or Adonis and become a rep! You can offer in home parties for personal shopping with your friends! This is a great way to shop in person without going to a sex store! Let them bring the goods to you! It is also a great way to make some money!!

About Athena's:

Athena's is the dream of Jennifer Jolicoeur. After five years in the adult novelty in-home party plan industry as a distributor, she decided to create her own company - one that worked as a family unit with its distributors - a company based upon a distinctive sisterhood. Thus, Athena's Home Novelties was born. Incorporated in 1998, and based in Woonsocket, RI, Athena's is one of the country's premier adult novelty party plan companies with over 1,700 active Goddesses operating in 40 states across the country.
